

2009 NOAC

National Order of the Arrow Conference

Indiana University • Bloomington • August 1-6, 2009

The Order Of The Arrow National Conference is held every two years at a major University. It features morning training sessions in extensive subject fields including computers, web site design, leadership, regalia, Indian dance, ceremonies, lodge interactions, lodge activities and more. Afternoons are reserved for competitions in ceremonies, Indian dance, sports (volleyball, basketball, swimming, track and field, lip sync, OA Survivor and many others), as well as free time, bowling, fellowship and interacting with Arrowmen from all over the world. Evenings feature outstanding arena shows. Over 7000 Arrowmen from around the country are anticipated to attend in 2009. Meals are served in University cafeterias and sleeping accommodations are in dorm rooms. Founders Day on Wednesday is a carnival-like atmosphere with each Lodge having a booth with giveaways, food, etc. Fellowship, training and fun are the principles of NOAC.

Unami won its first National Spirit Award in 2004 as one of the top Lodges at NOAC.

The cost in 2009 is anticipated to be $550 for youth and $700 for adults, which includes travel, hotel the night of arrival, conference fees, conference patches and tee shirts. Youth subsidies were provided in 2004 & 2006 to help offset the costs and can be expected again for 2009.

If you are an adult, deposits do not guarantee a position in the contingent: as activeness in the Lodge and timeliness of deposit will be among other factors used to determine the contingent. Only a limited number of adult slots will be available. For questions contact: Jeff Aster, NOAC Adviser (215-205-4713 or jeffreyaster@yahoo.com)

To reserve a place for 2009, please mail a non-refundable $75.00 deposit made payable to Cradle of Liberty Council with the application below.
